

Dean
College of Education

Bloomsburg University of Pennsylvania, a comprehensive, high-achieving, and nationally recognized university, currently delivers a personal and challenging academic experience to nearly 9,000 students (8,253 undergraduate and 671 graduate) in 57 undergraduate degree programs and 20 graduate programs, including doctorates in audiology and nursing practice. The university seeks a new Dean of the College of Education (COE) to carry out Bloomsburg University's mission of preparing students for personal and professional success in an increasingly complex global environment.

The Dean will serve on the Provost's Academic Affairs Leadership Council, and the President's Leadership Council and will participate in the university's upcoming Strategic Planning process to be led by Bloomsburg's President, Dr. Bashar Hanna. The COE dean will be an integral figure for assuring the College of Education remains a cornerstone of the university's academic excellence and remains true to its mission: Understanding strength lies in diversity, the College of Education places the well-being of learners first—fostering ethical and qualified professionals through education, scholarship, and service. An earned doctorate in a discipline appropriate to the College of Education and an academic, scholarly record meriting an appointment with tenure at the rank of Associate or Full Professor in the College of Education is required.
